DATA SCIENCE

People who work in data science are called data scientists. Data scientists solve complex data problems using computer science, math and statistics.

The Data Science Process

1 Gather information from various sources

2 Clean and organize data for use

3 Use statistical methods to find patterns and trends

4 Construct models to show types of data and their relationships

5 Use data models to draw meaningful conclusions

Please scan the QR code to give me some feedback on my poster :)